

Sharon Stone – Bio

October, 2008

Sharon was raised in San Jose and moved to Sacramento to receive Bachelor degrees in Public Relations and Art from CSU Sacramento. She has worked many years in the nonprofit sector with organizations such as Loaves & Fishes, Planned Parenthood, and the American Red Cross. While in search of religious philosophy and a sense of community, she and husband, Bryan, joined the Unitarian Universalist church three years ago. They are proud first time parents of a baby girl, Lorelai, who came into their lives last April.
